Title: Scaling up training of health workers for TB control-- challenges to sustainability and assurance of educational quality: The experience of Indonesia

Version: 1 Date: 18 June 2008

Reviewer's report:

I found the article very relevant in view of the scale up of interventions including MDR-TB management required/recommended by the Global Plan 2 to attain the MDG goal by 2015. It is well written and documented that it would be possible to replicate it in other countries for other interventions not just DOTS but also for MDR-TB management. I highly recommend the publication of this article to serve as a model for other HBC to follow and implement in their own countries
